

The Columbia Historical Society presents

Connecticut's Past as Revealed Through Archaeology

Scott Brady of FOSA (Friends of the State Archaeologist) will give an illustrated talk about sites in Connecticut, from Paleo-Indian through 19th century historic, that have been explored by avocational archaeologists and members of the public with guidance from FOSA.

7 PM Friday May 13

This free talk will be preceded by a 6 PM pot luck appetizer/dessert social hour with short Historical Society business meeting. All are welcome.

at Yeomans Hall 323 Rt. 87 West Columbia